

Tapes reveal Nixon threat against Post

(C) Washington Star News

WASHINGTON — A threat by President Nixon to file suit against the Washington Post, was omitted from the White House-edited transcript of a Sept. 15, 1972, meeting between the President and two aides, according to House Judiciary committee sources who have heard an actual recording of the discussion.

Also on the tape but not in the White House transcript, sources said, were several vague threats by Nixon to "get" Washington lawyer Edward Bennett Williams, an attorney for the Post who also was representing at that time the Democratic National Committee's re-election suit against the President's re-election.

"We're going to fix that SOB," Nixon said of Williams at one point, according to the committee sources.

The reported omissions cast doubt about the completeness and accuracy of other transcripts.

The White House has supplied the committee as evidence in its impeachment investigation of the President.

The remarks themselves raise the possibility that Nixon planned to use his office — and perhaps other federal agencies — for political punishment of what he considered administration "enemies."

Several committee members said such activity could be a possible ground for impeachment.

The committee is investigating more than 200 allegations that the White House attempted to use federal agencies for political purposes. The threats against the Post and Williams, according to the committee, came during a meeting in the Oval Office that included, at various times the President, H. R. Haldeman, then White House chief of staff, and John W. Dean III, then White House counsel.

"The main thing is, the Post is going to have dummable, dummable problems out of this one."

Nixon was quoted as saying at one point in the discussion, "They have a television station, you know."

A short time after the September meeting at the White House, four groups — two with close Nixon ties, challenged before the Federal Communications Commission the broadcast licenses of two Post-owned television stations in Florida.

The recording of the Sept. 15 conversation was obtained by the judiciary committee from the White House at an early stage of its impeachment inquiry. It has 17 other White House tapes that relate to crucial areas of its investigation.

The President, however, has provided only edited transcripts in the cases of 42 other tapes that the committee has sought, and last week he announced through his lawyer, James D. St. Clair, that no additional Watergate recordings would be made available to the impeachment panel.

Buhl man seeks 6th GOP term

BUHL — Rep. William Roberts, R-Buhl, co-chairman of the powerful Joint Finance Appropriations Committee, announced today he would seek a sixth term in the state legislature.

Roberts has represented District 24, the western portion of Twin Falls County, since he was first elected in 1964. In addition to his post as chairman of the Appropriations Committee, Roberts also sits on the House Transportation and Defense Committee.

Roberts, a lifelong resident of Twin Falls County, has been associated with the Buhl Implement Co. for the past 34 years.

In announcing his candidacy, Roberts said, "With this background I feel I am qualified to properly represent the interests of Twin Falls County relating to agriculture, business and labor. It has always been my policy to approach the state budgeting process on a businesslike basis. The needs of the state have been adequately met within the existing revenue structure. We have avoided tax increases and it is my belief that by holding our activities to existing programs we can properly serve all Idaho citizens and keep a balanced budget within present revenues."

The Republican primary is June 11. The only other announced Republican candidate for the two District 24 House seats is Lawrence Knipe, Pifer.

House Speaker William Lanting, R-Hollister, is not seeking re-election in November.

Seniors should attend TF meet

Senior citizens from throughout Magic Valley should make a real effort to attend the state conference on aging at the College of Southern Idaho today and Friday.

The program will include an arts-and-crafts fair, talent show, speeches from politicians and other entertainment. In addition, the U.S. Senate Special Committee on Aging will hold a hearing at CSI this afternoon.

Workshops will be held throughout the event on topics of particular interest to senior citizens.

The conference sponsors have made a special effort to accommodate the seniors at the CSI campus. Transportation is available to and from the college. Participants can even ride around the campus in golf carts.

Only a few years ago there was little public interest expressed in the problems and opportunities for senior citizens.

The Twin Falls conference suggests an increased awareness that is long overdue.

It should be a worthwhile two days for the Valley's many senior citizens.

JAMES KILPATRICK

Some sad second thoughts on 'Gate transcripts

WASHINGTON — Let me come back to the presidential transcripts. Some sad second thoughts are in order.

When I first wrote about the transcripts 10 days ago, I had read the first 500 pages of the Blue Book. The President, I said, emerges from its pages in pretty good shape. That judgment was premature. When the 1,300 pages are contemplated as a whole, and read in conjunction with the President's public statements, a regrettably different conclusion appears.

We are faced with two questions about the President's conduct. The first is a question of law: Was his conduct criminal?

The second is a question of morality: Was his conduct wrong?

If the last before the country were confined to the first question, I would not be so troubled. These 1,300 pages settle that question: My President is not a crook. The most serious charges that have been raised against Nixon are that he twice submitted felony — first in the Ellsberg matter in California, second in the burglary at the Watergate — and that he later obstructed justice by conspiring to cover up the unlawful conduct of his aides.

The record as to these charges admittedly is ambiguous. If one reads only an isolated passage here and there, an arguable case can be made that the President at least indirectly accomplished the "penetration" of the psychiatrist's office. Similarly, prosecutors can find evidence to support their contention that Nixon knowingly sanctioned the payment of hush money. But the record has to be taken as a whole.

Under two familiar rules of criminal law — the presumption of innocence and the rule of reasonable doubt — a fair jury would vote to acquit. If the tapes here transcribed are the most damaging evidence that can be adduced against the President, the House could not rightly impeach him nor the Senate justify removing him from office.

Alas, this leaves the second question, the question of morality. Was his conduct wrong? On this point, the evidence is overwhelming. His conduct was indefensible. If all that one asks of a president is simply that he is not a crook, one asks little. One is entitled to ask more.

One is entitled to ask for a certain purity of conduct, for a sure sense-of-moral leadership, for a keen understanding that presidents must be judged by standards more demanding than the standards we apply to lesser men.

Here, too, one can find isolated passages in which Nixon says what any man would like a president to say: "I would be wrong, that's for sure. . . Tell the truth, John, tell the truth!"

The President lets his sense of compassion show through in his sympathy for El Howard Hunt and, for others caught in the Watergate net.

But when allowance has been made for these comments, hundreds of bleak pages remain. In page after page after page, the President emerges as little more than a second-rate public relations man.

"I am so sick of this thing," Nixon says at one point.

"We are all sick of this thing. The country is sick of this thing. But the miserable prospect is that we will be sicker yet before the country begins to get well. Even if the House refuses to impeach (a prospect that grows increasingly uncertain), a pestilential virus of these 1,300 pages will persist."

The President's appeal now is not for understanding or for justice, or even for vindication. His appeal is for mercy, and for compassion. Under the melancholy circumstances, it seems a vast deal to ask.

Registry bill death good omen

WASHINGTON — In recent years, and under pressure from certain civil liberties groups real and phony — Congress has shown an appetite for the Juddish, the treacherous.

Thus it may be a good omen that the House has killed legislation to permit voters in federal elections to register by postcard.

There were many reasons to knock this one off, including support for the bill by the nutty Americans for Democratic Action. But Minority Leader John Rhodes, R-Ariz., said it best when he described the legislation as "a license to steal, a clear invitation to vote fraud."

Heaven knows that the republicans are already overreaching in their electoral corruption, but this proposal would be an especially bad idea.

It would have invited political boozes to register lunatics, felons and individuals under 18 and then carry them to the polls to win elections. All that would be required of the registrant would be a simple statement that he was eligible to vote.

ANDREW
TULLY

Another joke would be the Voter Registration Administration, with authority to act against fraudulent registration. Yikes! It's already illegal to falsify a registration statement, but no adding machine is needed to do that. And it would have invited political boozes to register lunatics, felons and individuals under 18 and then carry them to the polls to win elections. All that would be required of the registrant would be a simple statement that he was eligible to vote.

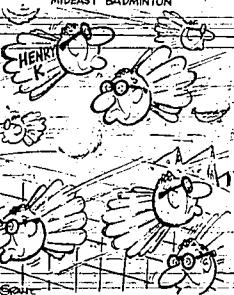

A few were willing to believe that Scott and all who followed were genuinely outraged by the transcripts and were acting out of nobler instincts than politicos usually betray when the crisis is a moral one.

In a brilliantly savage assessment of what the President has done with the transcripts, the New Yorker Magazine seemed to have captured the essence of it all in this passage:

"The President uncivilizes a swamp and instructs us to see a garden of flowers. With the old method of concealment, he tried to tump with the public record. With the new method of disclosure and contradiction, he tumpers with the public record."

He was failing to conceal the evidence of crime he has lumbered an campaign to destroy the country's capacity to recognize what crime is. He has contrived to use the full power of his office to drive the nation out of its mind."

That Lincoln difference

Lewiston Tribune

If there is a single decisive characteristic that separates the Idaho legislators of former years from many of the new zealots today, it is a sense of humor, particularly the ability of a legislator to laugh at himself.

State Rep. Ray Lincoln of Twin Falls, who died Monday, deserves to be remembered and will be remembered for his years of service in the legislative process. He was one of the ablest ever and he did not take lightly the business of legislating.

But the difference between a legislature and a holy crusade is the attitude of not taking the work too seriously. Ray Lincoln, like his famous namesake, was a Republican and a conservative Republican at that. But he was a partisan in a process of giving and taking, not an evangelist calling down the wrath of God on the devils among us.

Unlike the young conservatives who have nearly taken over the Republican House caucus in the Idaho Legislature, Ray Lincoln considered political opponents mistaken, but never devils.

He teased the Democrats and the liberals with his laconic wit, sometimes unmercifully. And he laughed loudest when teased in return. A piece of legislation was to him a wiz or a silly idea, but never Armageddon. And as much as anyone he cleared away some of the attitude at Boise that the chambers on either side of the rotunda are the governmental center of the universe, deciding the fate of humankind.

Too many avenging angels have entered the Idaho Legislature past two elections. Were it not for the Ray Lincolns, the situation would have been worse. Without him in next session and without some change in the trend toward legislative zealous, the Idaho legislature will become an odder stranger place.

The dash-out-and-revive-and-reconcile spirit of the old Lincoln who once pled that "I have endured a great deal of ridicule without much mirth; and have received a great deal of kindness, not quite free from ridicule."

Ray Lincoln understood that quote. The pale imitations of legislators scattered on the floor around him neither understood the quote nor were free from the suspicion that neither Lincoln could be trusted because both sometimes chuckled in the midst of serious business. — B. H.

Senate upholds

amendment, which also was approved by the House, will be sent back to the Senate to be considered again. The victory for the Senate liberals came only seven weeks after the House of Representatives by a vote of 232 to 117 approved a provision that would have prohibited federal courts from ordering the busing of children between two school districts.

The vote came after over six hours of often emotional debate on the merits of and the problems posed by the practice of busing.

The Senate vote was on an amendment offered by Sen. Edward T. Gurney, R-Fla., to the Federal-Aid-to-Education Bill that has been on the Senate floor all week.

After the defeat of the Gurney amendment, the Senate passed by a vote of 56 to 36 a much more limited antibusing provision that prohibits the busing of children between two school districts, one of which is in compliance with a court order to desegregate while the other is not.

Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., who introduced the amendment, said it "provides that school district lines may not be crossed for busing unless there is a finding that those lines were drawn, maintained or crossed for the purpose of segregation, or there is a finding that as a result of discriminatory actions within the school districts, the lines have had the effect of segregating children."

In another action relating to the education bill, the Senate committee said he saw no opposition to the plan in Congress, but it has not been formally introduced.

Justice William O. Douglas did not participate in either court opinion.

Cold, showery weather predicted

Twin Falls, northside; Hailey, Camas Prairie, Lower Wood River Valley:

Partly cloudy and continued cool today. Increasing cloudiness tonight. A chance of showers Friday. Lows tonight 25 to 30 and the high Friday 35 to upper 50s.

The outlook for Saturday partly cloudy and continued cool.

The organization can't afford to block the reversion, the court said. It can sue to recover the taxes, but it must pay these taxes while the suit is being litigated. Lawyers say this can take years and that, meanwhile, donations to the organization will dry up because donors can no longer claim what they gain as exemptions on their own taxes.

Thomas A. Troyer, representing the Council on Foundations, which has 600 member organizations, said Wednesday's decision could spell doom for young charitable groups which do not have lists of regular, dedicated donors.

But he added that legislation now pending in the House Ways and Means Committee as part of the tax reform bill would limit the IRS power to audit.

Justice Lewis F. Powell spoke for the court in two parallel decisions. The court ruled 7 to 1 that a group called Americans United for Separation of Church and State, could not keep its tax exemption for contributors while it challenged the validity of an IRS revocation ruling. A unanimous ruling forced Bob Jones University, Greenville, S.C., to pay income tax while it contests an exemption loss.

The IRS accused Americans of keeping school records to permit blocks on religious grounds and lost its status on ground of racial discrimination.

Troyer said the pending legislation would speed tax court decisions on exemption status cases. The tax courts would issue summary judgments, eliminating litigation which often takes years to resolve.

A staff member on the House committee said he saw no opposition to the plan in Congress, but it has not been formally introduced.

Justice William O. Douglas did not participate in either court opinion.

AF-B-I comes to life

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The first B-1, the strategic jet bomber, the Air Force sees as the replacement for the veterans B-52, has come to life with a functioning nerve system. Rockwell International Corp. said Wednesday the plane's electrical power system has been installed and turned on, and the first of four 30,000-pound thrust jet engines, having been duly petitioned by the American Falls Reservoir District, the Department of Environmental and Community Services places before the public the following alternative proposals relative to Idaho Water Quality Standards?

ALTERNATE NO. 1

It is proposed that Section VIII, B-1, Rules and Regulations for the Establishment of Standards for Water Quality and for Wastewater Treatment Requirements for Waters of the State of Idaho, be amended to read as follows:

"The DO Standard shall apply to all flowing waterways with the exception of those segment of the American Falls Dam and the backwaters of Lake Walcott. In that segment wastewater shall be discharged and/or activity shall be conducted in either alone or in combination with a minimum dissolved oxygen concentration of 5 mg/l; the dissolved oxygen concentration to be less than 6 mg/l; the requirement for a DO concentration of 90% of saturation shall not apply to that segment."

ALTERNATE NO. 2

It is proposed that the Board of Environmental and Community Services issue a variance to the Rules and Regulations for the Establishment of Standards for Water Quality and for Wastewater Treatment Requirements for Waters of the State of Idaho, as follows:

"Notwithstanding the requirements of Section VIII, B-1, Rules and Regulations for the Establishment of Standards for Water Quality and for Wastewater Treatment Requirements for Waters of the State of Idaho, the operators of the American Falls Dam and Power Plant are permitted to allow passage of a minimum dissolved oxygen concentration of 4 mg/l through solid dam and power plant intakes as Section III.D. Rules and Regulations for the Establishment of Standards for Water Quality and for Wastewater Treatment Requirements for Waters of the State of Idaho applies to the American Falls Dam and Power Plant, such rules and regulations are deemed to be satisfied in that any degradation of water quality does not result in a significant economic or social development, and will not interfere with or become injurious to any assigned uses made of or presently possible in such

A public hearing on the above proposals will be held May 29, in Burley at the Pendleton Inn Convention Center at 9:30 a.m.

Both written and oral testimony may be submitted. Persons unable to attend the hearing but wishing to submit their comments in writing may do so by May 29, 1974, to the Board of Environmental and Community Services, Department of Environmental and Community Services, Statehouse, Boise, Idaho 83720.

Haig points finger at Simon

(C) New York Times Service
WASHINGTON — Alexander M. Haig, former undersecretary of state, told a closed-door session of the Senate Watergate Committee Wednesday that he was warned a year ago by William F. Simon, then deputy secretary of the treasury, that a federal investigation of a $100,000 political contribution from Howard R. Hughes had reached the point where it could eventually prove an embarrassment to President Nixon.

Sources familiar with his testimony said Haig, the White House chief of staff, had identified Simon, who was confirmed last week as secretary of the treasury, as the individual who told him in the spring of 1973 that an Internal Revenue Service inquiry into the trial of the Hughes money had led to Charles G. Rebozo, Nixon's close friend.

Chapin sentenced

(C) New York Times Service
WASHINGTON — President Nixon's former appointments secretary, Dwight L. Chapin, was sentenced Wednesday to a maximum of 10 months in prison for lying to a Watergate grand jury about political sabotage in the 1972 campaign. Judge Gerhard A. Gesell imposed two concurrent sentences of 10 to 30 months each, calling it "a punishment sentence for a man who is not likely to repeat and needs no rehabilitation."

Simon, formerly head of the Federal Energy Office, could not be reached for comment on the report. The account of Haig's testimony marked the first instance in which Simon's name has been mentioned in connection with the Hughes-Rebozo investigation or any of the administration's Watergate-related scandals.

There has been a procedure in effect since the early days of the Kennedy administration by which the IRS or the Treasury Department provides the White House with the names of "prominent persons" whose tax audits might become publicly controversial. But it is unclear whether details about these so-called "sensitive" cases had been given to the White House in the past.

Haig's testimony about his knowledge of the Hughes-Rebozo matter was given under oath during an hour-and-a-half session before Watergate committee members and staff lawyers, after the President agreed to waive a claim of executive privilege invoked earlier this month before the committee by Haig.

Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., the committee chairman, emerged from the closed session "at one point and told newsmen that Haig's responses to questions about the sensitive cases was 'completely inaccurate' in the IRS' or the Treasury's view.

That was the month in which the IRS, which had then known of the billionaire's $100,000 payment for a year, first inquired of Rebozo about its disposition.

Asked to elaborate on the remark by Ervin, one source close to the committee's investigation gave the following account of Haig's recollections:

Hagerman school budget hearing set

HAGERMAN — The Hagerman school budget hearing will be June 3, Sept. Ken Black said Tuesday.

He said the budget is not yet "firmed up" but will show an increase of some $27,000 over the current budget. "It would take anywhere from $1,500 to $2,000." Most of the increase results from a teacher salary increase which varied from $400 to 11 per cent.

One of the reasons for not having final figures, Black said, is the prospect of losing six or seven students from the district next year, which will affect income from the state.

The state's per-pupil aid is $347 per pupil per year. An average daily attendance (ADA) this could mean a loss of $3,000 to the Hagerman district, Black said. The ADA funding is up from $438, he said.

The low bid of Platt Brothers, Gooding, of $2,432.88 was accepted by trustees Monday night for painting the outside of the high school, some classrooms and bleachers. Other bids were received from Bartlett Bros., Twin Falls; and Crist and Son, Hagerman.

Black reported work at the new $337,000 Hagerman Grade School now under construction is being delayed until the cinder block layers from Twin Falls can get to the project.

Trustees endorsed the Red Cross swimming program at Gooding so that the district school bus can be used to transport local students. They also passed a resolution to continue the hot lunch program. Black said this is a formally needed to participate in the federal funded program. The district has vacancies for home economics and guidance teachers. Trustees approved having a resource room in the new grade school for students with learning problems. Black said they now have a half-time teacher, but the state will pay up to $8 per cent for a fulltime teacher.

DR. ALLEMAN
...in Shoshone

Military doctor assigned

SHOSHONE — Under a new program of the US Army, Dr. Allen Allerman is working with Dr. R. G. Neher, Shoshone, through May.

Allerman, a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, Madison, is serving in Fort Bragg, Ga., where he served in the Army practice residency.

This program allows physicians to work with practicing physicians in a location of their choice, which is designed to help them in medical practice upon release from the service.

Dr. Allerman, his wife, Nancy, and their 13-month-old daughter will be at home in Shoshone for about a month.

He will then return to military duty at Madigan Army Base, Tacoma, Wash., where he has been assigned. He has three years of military duty to complete.

Allerman feels the new program is important to those who enter military service because it presents the opportunity for them to learn how to conduct a private practice.

He especially noted the difference in practice between small towns and large cities.

Jerome outlines calendar

JEROME — Aug. 26 will be the first day of school for Jerome students under a 1974-75 school calendar set by Jerome trustees Monday night.

The trustees had discussed the possibility of starting school after Labor Day, but a poll taken of high school students and parents showed preference for the "official" starting date. Senior class officers met with the trustees and received approval for the annual senior day sneak, however, no details or dates were given.

Letters of resignation from Betty Johnson and John Johnson were approved.

The trustees were reminded that baccalaureate and graduation ceremonies will be on the same night, starting at 8 p.m. May 20, in the Jerome High School gym.

Kimberly council to open sewer line bids May 24

KIMBERLY — Bids on the Kimberly park sewer line will be opened May 24 at 2 p.m. The City Council has issued a second call for bids on the project, which will connect Kimberly to Twin Falls sewer lines after the 10 bids opened April 18 had to be rejected.

According to Edythe Widmer, city clerk, there was a discrepancy in the low bid of $12,935.60 from Jobeca Construction Co., Yakima, Wash., necessitating a second call for bids.

A hearing is scheduled for June 1 with the Kimberly Planning and Zoning Commission on a request from Jim Henry on a zoning variance so he can build a potato cellar in a location not now zoned for business.

The City Council hearing on the request will be held June 11.

TF bridge repaired, opened

TWIN FALLS — Repair of the Shoshone Street Bridge has been completed by the Idaho Department of Highways and the bridge is open for traffic.

The bridge is part of State Highway 7 and was repaired during the past week by state power.

City Manager John Milar said repair work completed earlier than expected and the state has been able to lift barricades ahead of the anticipated time.

Milar said the work in general involved repair of the backwall on the bridge approach and it was necessary to close the bridge one lane at a time, leaving the single lane open only to emergency vehicles.

He said the cooperation of the general public and especially persons living south of the bridge and working in the area in repairing the bridge was exceptionally good. He said the city and department of highways are grateful to these persons.

Some repair was also made to walks and curbs on the bridge during the improvement project.

Gooding zone plan discussed

GOODING — Gooding City and Planning Commission members met Tuesday night to discuss the city's comprehensive zoning plan. This will become part of the county comprehensive zoning plan according to Mrs. Pat Klingler, commission chairman.

She said the planning group has two purposes — to make long range plans for the overall development of the city and to approve specific development plans.

The group was organized about five months ago after earlier attempts to form a planning commission. She said the commission has no authority but only can make recommendations to the city on zoning problems.

The commission chairman urged developers to refer their plans to the zoning group for recommended action.

Hazelton panel urges 'yes' votes

HAZELTON — In a letter to all patrons of the school district, a citizen committee has urged support for a new school at the election at the Valley High School from noon until 7 p.m.

The letter stated "the need for a new and modern facility is a health concern for this plant facility." It continues, "As we are sure you're aware, the present elementary buildings are old. It would be the intent of such a levy to establish a cash balance to help pay for construction of a new central grade school in approximately three years."

"We are asking you to vote yes for a five-mill plant facility levy over a period of three years. At the present assessed valuation of our district, amounts to approximately $40,000 per year or over $100,000 in three years to help construct the new building."

at the next regular meeting, it was decided this week, after discussing problems with one of the city wells, to consider the possibility that, until the sewer project is completed, their hope is that some money will be left to apply to improvement in the water system.

Councilmen also designated the $7,793 revenue airing allowance for 1975 for multi-purpose municipal use so it could be used where it is most needed.

A list of persons, including councilman Ted Waska, who are allegedly violating the city ordinance which allows two adult animals per residence, was read.

It was decided no one should be forced to kill his pets.

Permission was given Police Chief Jim Campbell to attend a narcotics school in Gooding. Councilman Winko Ba Vawser, city works superintendent, were given authority to decide on what streets should be repaired as long as the $12,000 budgeted for this use lasts.

In other business, councilmen:

approved a beer license for Wilmer York subject to receipt of a property signed lease agreement.

Ron Balder to go ahead with his request to place a movable storage shed within two feet of his property line, which would be in variance of the zoning regulation of five feet.

He appeared to ask if he could purchase a 15-foot unused strip of land adjoining his property, believed to be his originally set aside for an alley.

The land is not used and city officials said it would be next winter before they would have time to check through their records and locate the deed, but they would notify him at that time.

were urged by Mayor Von Nebecker to attend the Association of Idaho Cities convention in Boise June 13-15 which, he said, he will attend at his own expense.

DEAR ABBY: I have this theory, and I would like your opinion. I think it's kind of a generalization, but it's true: out how he feels about animals.

People who like animals and make a big fuss over them have a very kind and affectionate nature and are likely to make good mates and parents.

But a person who dislikes animals (especially dogs and cats) and either ignores or mistreats them, is sure to be unkind, inconsiderate and unaffectionate and will probably make a very poor mate or parent.

What do you think?

DEAR LOVER: Generalizations are dangerous. There are people who relate much better to animals than they do to humans, but it's naturally nice to have pets over animals. But it doesn't necessarily follow that those people are better mates or parents. We've all known animal lovers who lavish an excessive amount of affection on pets, but who are cruel to people. The best index to a person's character is (a) how he treats people who can't do him any good, and (b) how he treats people who can't fight back.

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for 22 years and have the reputation of being a very good cook.

Whenever we have company—and someone compliments me on my cooking, my husband says: "She's great in the kitchen, but she's not so hot in the bedroom." It always gets a laugh. My husband thinks he is being funny. I don't. How should I respond next time he says this?

GREAT IN THE KITCHEN

DEAR GREAT: Ask your husband if he'd be happier if you slept in the kitchen and cooked in the bedroom.

DEAR ABBY: I will have to go back a long way to find you in my column. I am a twin, my wife is well.

Fifteen years ago I married a teacher's daughter. I was the town "bad boy." I was late for my driving test as I was rolling dice in the back room while the girls shop and forgot the time. The wedding got off late, and I missed the train for our honeymoon.

We raised four good kids, though. The boys both got through college and are doing well, and the girls married fine men. We have ten nice grandchildren. I'm retired now, so I'm spending more time playing cards with the boys at the club. The problem my wife is threatening to divorce me over is my not getting home on time. I get tired up talking to somebody, or shooting pool, or playing cards, and I don't know where the time goes. I get home late, and the wife is ready to skin me.

She never had to work outside the house a day in her life, and we've always had a joint checking account. I never looked at another woman, and I drink like a gentleman. But she says if I am late once more it's the end of our marriage. Is this fair? —THE LATE JOHN S. MCB.

DEAR LATE: My guess is that she doesn't mean it. But on the chance that I'm wrong, shape up and keep your eye on the clock. Grandpa.

Eden and Hazelton schools, left to right, will be eliminated if new school is approved by voters

Valley district seeks new school

By DIXIE DIXON

Times-News writer

EDEN, Idaho—Voters in the Valley School District will go to the polls May 21 to decide on a $5-million levy that would finance construction of a new elementary school.

The "citizens" committee which has been working for the passage of the levy has outlined the educational and economic benefits of a new school.

In an interview committee members said they felt that a new building would create a more desirable atmosphere for learning. Acoustics and lighting would be improved, they said.

The committee also noted that better communication would exist among administration and faculty in a new setting. At the present time they physically take care of administrative duties at both the Eden and Hazelton schools, and must spend part of each day traveling the three miles between them.

The committee maintains one office in a central building, which would be more advantageous, increasing the principal's availability to students and faculty and eliminating the increased expense and upkeep for offices in both locations.

With a new facility the seventh and eighth grade could be located together in a better junior high setting, the committee said, the seventh grade rooms are in the Hazelton school and the eighth grade rooms in the high school, each under a different administration.

Terry Stigle, committee chairman, pointed out that the eighth grade students cannot be included in many high school activities. This creates a problem when it has to go back to Hazelton for extra curricular activities such as junior high football, basketball and track he said. Students this age cannot be licensed drivers and parents have to go from one school to another if pick up their school if they are to participate in these activities, he added.

With one building the committee claims that the students would be able to study under a more coordinated curriculum and modern teaching methods would be easier to apply.

One of the main advantages would be a central library facility, instead of the three now in operation in the district, the committee contends.

Ron Gardner pointed out that with one library the fourth grade student that needed third grade library books would have them available, instead of having them "three miles away" at another school, and the same condition would hold for the third grade student capable of reading fourth grade material, she said.

Stigle said that although the grade school libraries have been open for use during the summer, parents with different ages children would have to go to one or three places to fill their children's reading needs. Cooperation between the school and community for a cooperative school-community library would also be a possibility, Stigle pointed out.

There is also a definite need for improved facilities for physical education, sports, music and the arts, Mrs. Gardner said.

When the two grade schools were built in mid 1928 there was no gymnasium—a state requirement for physical education instruction.

Now it is a state law that each school have a physical education program in the curriculum, she noted.

Both schools have a gymnasium located in the center of the building and classrooms branching off around the gym, with only an open hallway separating the rooms from the noise that is always connected with any

In this situation it is difficult to carry on an intensive P.E. program without disrupting regular classroom, Mrs. Gardner said. At the present time there is only room for one row of seating space around the edge of the gym for spectators, she added.

In addition to educational benefits of a new school, the committee has outlined economic benefits.

Crews unaware of BLM bounds

By BARTQUESNELL
Times-News writer

SUN VALLEY — Ken Zimmerman, Sun Valley mountain director, said Monday crews did not know they were taking willows from restricted land last week.

Bureau of Land Management officials have confirmed to Sun Valley that unidentified crews were in BLM land; they crew was told willows replanted and grass sown where the trees were taken.

The area occupied was also on a mining claim leased from the BLM by Sun Valley Exploration and Development, Inc. Ted Werry, vice president of the company, demanded Sun Valley crews stop uprooting willows on the claim May 3.

Calls were placed by Sun Valley Co. and Bob Barnes, president of Sun Valley Exploration and Development, to the Snake River BLM office. BLM officials declined to say Friday Sun Valley would be responsible for the replanting of willows and sowing of grass seed.

Bliss sets lower '75 school budget

BLISS — Bliss may be the only school district in Magic Valley to have a lowered budget next year.

Supt. Burton Lenker said Tuesday no program is being cut and teachers have received an 11 per cent salary increase, and he is hoping "with the state aid we can keep the levy the same." The district total levy is 41.75 mills, including a two-mill plant facilities levy.

New facilities planned into the community are our salvation," the superintendent said. Also the district expects to gain attendance from the 17 new apartments now under construction by Regan Homes, Twin Falls.

The construction on Interstate 80 in the Bliss area contributes to some of the new students, he said.

The budget approved by trustees Monday night is $138,667.26, compared to $139,714.10 for the current school year. The superintendent said less money is available for the new facilities.

Quote incorrect

RUPERT — A union representative was quoted incorrectly Wednesday in the Times-News.

The statement should have read "there would be no violence or picket lines."

The comment was part of the testimony of Marvin Fletcher, president of the Local 228, American Federation of Grain Millers Union during a court hearing regarding the strike at the J. R. Simplot Co.

The Times-News regrets the error.

TF woman to Minico post

TWIN FALLS — Roberta Johnson, 28, Twin Falls, has been named Minico County planning coordinator.

She will resign June 30 as executive director of the South Idaho Resource Planning and Development Association (SIRPDA).

She has worked on the SIRPDA staff for the past two years. An Idaho State University graduate, Miss Johnson said her job in Minico County will include "coordinating and doing research" for citizen committees which will draft a land-use plan.

"It will be a citizen plan rather than a professional's plan," she said.

SV group sets clean-up

SUN VALLEY — The Sun Valley Fly Fishers Club will sponsor an afternoon clean-up program Sunday.

Dr. Lynn T. Levy, club president, said trash, paper, cans and bottles will be picked up in the Silver Creek area. He said cleanup of the Sun Valley Co. "fly fishing only" water and other public-access areas is planned.

Dr. Levy said interested persons should meet at noon at the Sun Valley parking lot. The group will drive to Silver Creek from there. Anyone is welcome to participate, he said.

Burley farm meet set

BURLEY — A meeting of farm organizations and local business people is scheduled for 8 p.m. Saturday at the Ponderosa Inn, Burley.

All area farmers, farm organizations and farm-related businesses are invited to attend the meeting.

The national executive board of directors of the Farmers Union is demanding that Congress intervene immediately to provide a combination of price support loans at not less than 90 percent parity and payments under the 1973 Farm Act to "head off" the farm price bust that is now getting started," according to a statement by Utah-Idaho Farmers Union officials.

Ed Smith, national vice president of the Farmers Union, will attend the meeting to discuss emergency action.

90% refused

(UPI) — Boise teachers have refused an average nine per cent pay increase offered by the school district, saying it is below increases in the cost of living.

Negotiations between the Boise Education Association and the Boise Independent School District broke off the week after spokesmen for each reached an impasse.

McDermott action dismissed

POTATO LAKE (UPI) — A Potato Lake judge has dismissed an action against Rep. Pacific McDermott that alleged he received compensation from her husband who is a lobbyist.

Judge Gus Carr Anderson, in a memorandum decision, said the court would exceed its jurisdiction if it made the assumption that the marriage contract makes a person prejudiced or biased.

The court action had been filed by F.G. Barlow and others alleging that residents of Potato Lake were "entitled" to be represented in the legislature free of legal conflict of interest."

Church urges regulations

BOISE (UPI) — Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, wants the Federal Energy Office to establish regulations that will protect the fuel needs of farmers and residents of small towns.

In a letter to administrator of the FEO, John Sawhill, Church Wednesday said federal energy regulations are designed to guarantee farmers all the fuel they need.

He emphasized that it was important that those regulations be translated into procedures which will facilitate the swift handling of farm fuel requests.

Former narcs sue paper

MOSCOW, Idaho (UPI) — A former Idaho state narcotics agent has filed a $60,000 libel suit against the Tribune Publishing Co., Lewiston.

Michael Caldero, Coeur d'Alene, who figured prominently in a story written by Lewiston Morning Tribune investigative reporter Jim Sheldley published Nov. 18, 1973, filed the suit in Second District Court.

Sheldley's article described a 1972 incident in a Coeur d'Alene city park where a young father was shot by Caldero, then a field agent for the Idaho Bureau of Narcotics and Organized Crime.

Caldero, who left the bureau Jan. 30 of this year, claims the story exposed him to public contempt and ridicule.

Speaker services set

LEWISTON, Idaho (UPI) — Funeral services for retired Supreme Court Justice Clay Spear have been tentatively set for Friday at Coeur d'Alene.

Spear died at his home here Wednesday of what Lewiston police said was a self-inflicted gunshot wound.

Spear served six years on the court before retiring in 1971, plus four years as chief justice.

He was first appointed to the high court by Gov. Robert E. Smiley to succeed E.T. Knudson when Knudson retired. Spear successfully ran for election to the seat in 1970.

Spear came to the supreme court after serving for 12 years as district judge in Coeur d'Alene.

Straw piles burn

JEROME — The Jerome Rural Fire Department was kept busy Wednesday night, burning straw piles.

Howard DuBois, Jerome chief of police, reported that several bundles of straw were set on fire in the city streets in different parts of the city. He said several youths were involved in the prank.

"The first fire report came in about 11 p.m. at Summer's Market. Youths had spread a bale of straw in the street in front of the market and set it afire. Other bales of straw were set in the streets elsewhere in town and set afire. Because they were still tied together, they didn't burn too well," DuBois said.

He said the police department is investigating the prank. "The senior was held yesterday and it's possible some of them were involved. However, that was no excuse. Some could have been hurt, had a car hit one of those bales of straw," DuBois said.

Hailey suit charges fraud

HAILEY — A suit filed in Fiji-District Court here is seeking $50,000 in punitive damages, alleging "fraudulent misrepresentation" by Sun Valley Realty Inc.

The suit also seeks $87,000 at 10 per cent interest "on an agreed, upon 'buy-back' purchase of a Cottonwood condominium."

The suit alleges Willard and Rabilene Engle bought Cottonwood condominium number 1447 Nov. 16, 1973, with the implied stipulation Sun Valley Realty "buy back" the condominium as soon as another condominium the Engles were interested in was available.

In a second count, the plaintiffs allege "Tom Curran made several false and fraudulent misrepresentations to entice the plaintiffs to purchase the Cottonwood condominium."

The suit said "the defendants falsely misrepresented the unit as part of a three-unit complex with annual property tax being $700. The unit was a five-unit complex and the tax exceeded $1,000," according to the suit.

The suit also states "Sun Valley Realty falsely misrepresented the rental potential and rental rates that would be charged. Certain false and fraudulent misrepresentations — by the defendant — were made," the suit said,

"regarding free use of recreational facilities by Sun Valley property owners which in fact require the payment of a fee."

"Despite the plaintiff's request for copies of the condominium association articles and bylaws, the company has denied the plaintiff's copies," the suit continues.

Finally, the action alleges "Curran informed the plaintiffs they could not obtain financing through a local Ketchum bank exceeding $50,000 to individuals not long-time residents in the area."

Lincoln board to hear appeals

SHOSHONE — Lincoln County commissioners will meet at the courthouse as a board of equalization on the second and fourth Mondays in June.

Anyone who wants to appeal tax assessments or property within the county may do so at that time, according to county officials.

At a meeting this week the commission heard a report by Del Taylor, Gooding, pertaining to the Magic Valley Association of Governments, the organizational structure and workings.

Taylor is the planner for this newly formed organization which is composed of the former Wood River Resource Council of Governments and the southern Idaho association.

Mayors E. R. Werry, Shoshone; Cliff Davis, Dechirch, and C. W. Ward, Richfield, along with Dietrich Highway District members, Ralph Towne and Gene Coffman, met with the commissioners to discuss the project of creating old cars as city dumpsters.

Wanted suggested funds raised from this project be designated to the county swimming pool fund.

The county received the general planning use report for revenue sharing for July 1, 1974, to June 30, 1975. The county will budget out $78,315 at the next commissioner's meeting. The report — of such budget — must be to the Washington, D. C., office by the latter part of June.

Report from the county clerk's office showed $1,000.50 collected in fines and fees for the past month and $371.40 collected in recording fees, to total $1,40.90 in all.

Tent circus sets Saturday benefit

TWIN FALLS — The largest tent circus in the United States will be in Twin Falls Saturday for a special benefit show for the Twin Falls Fire Fighters.

Phil Clough, president of the fire fighters, said the George Matthey Great London Circus one of the highest quality circuses ever to perform for two performances Saturday.

The first is scheduled at 1 p.m. and the evening performance at 8 p.m. Workers will begin setting up the huge 120 by 240-foot tent Saturday morning at Lois Street and South Park Avenue.

Featured in the three-ring show will be outstanding aerial acts, Clough said, along with trained animal acts, clowns and other favorite events of the "big top."

He said some tickets are available at no cost to children under 12 years of age after the admission price. Organizations or other groups of such children are asked to contact Clough at his home, 732-5348.

Other tickets may be obtained at the gate prior to the show.

Ali performs for media; Foreman skips conference

NEW YORK (UPI) — George Foreman is a dummy. He knows there's no way he can beat Muhammad Ali in a war of words, so the heavyweight champion simply didn't turn up here Wednesday for a news conference extravaganza.

And Foreman was right. There is no question of if I will beat him, but "I beat him," Ali declaimed. "You ask how do I know I can beat him?"

"Over the power of Allah." Two — experience. Foreman has never fought for the title before! I beat Joe Frazier the first time, and then Foreman beats up Joe King Roman, and then he beats up Ken Norton. But I am the real champion. This will be Foreman's first fight, because I am the real champion."

Three — I never saw him get tired. He never hear the ref say "Round 4-7-8-9." I never seen him get winded, or get blinded by a jab sticking him. Stick and run. I been hit by heavier hitters than Foreman. Patterson, Henry Frazzub, Floyd Patterson, Henry Frazzub, Doug Jones, Sonny Liston. When they hit you, that's all. But Foreman, he hit Frazzub, Joe on his feet when they drop it, he hit Norton. And he hit them, not the other way around. He made this fight possible.

"And I'm in good standing with Allah," he said.

The scene for what promoters are trying to call one of the greatest spectacles of this century" is also Ali's ilk.

"When Foreman sees all those brothers in the audience," Ali explained, the eyes glittering with wicked humor, "he'll know he's in All Country. There ain't no Foreman in Africa."

There was no way Foreman was going to let this sit.

His smile didn't hurt a bit.

The money is in a Swiss bank for both fighters. All they have to do is get into that Zaire ring and, 24 hours later, pick up the proper letter of credit, win or lose.

All won the first engagement by default, and will win many more before the bell rings in Zaire.

That's when Foreman will be on hand, and their lists will do the talking.

Hardship rule eased

by Big Ten

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Big Ten has revised its hardship rules in football eligibility, voted to return to two-man officiating teams in basketball and reverted to institutional scheduling of sports other than football and basketball, the conference announced Wednesday.

At three days of meetings which wound up Wednesday, conference athletic directors voted to expand the hardship provisions to football to permit an additional season of eligibility to student-athletes injured before the third game of the season.

Previous conference rules provided an "extra" year of eligibility for football only for players hurt in the first game. A conference spokesman said the first-game hardship rules were adopted when teams were permitted only seven or eight games a year and the expansion of the season made such rules undesirable.

The conference also voted to enlist other conferences and schools in a campaign to change the NCAA's hardship provisions in legislation to be submitted to the NCAA convention next year.

They complained that three-fourths of Unit 8, where they normally hunt, is being opened to mule deer loaders this year.

Foreclosing on territory in which they normally hunt and heifers are being shot up."

Jordan blamed the Chamberlain basin problem in large measure on predators.

He said they are killing deer and elk not only in Big Creek, on the main salmon and other places but all over the state.

"You don't have enough game to feed the predator populations," he said.

Ken Olson, a Boise hunter, urged the commission to take some of the pressure off Unit 2A. He said opening day looks like Boise's Ann Morrison Park on Memorial Day.

Bob Gifford, a Big Creek outfitter, asked for more cooperation with conservation officers.

He said, "when we want them we can't find them and when we don't want them we get three or four of them."

Bill Eckenrood, Epiphany, suggested that the department "get our fish and game people out of the truck — even if it just talk to people."

"That would help your public relations quite a bit," he said.

Gross winners for the day were: Paul Johnson, Rupert; Len Williams, Twin Falls; Shirley Blaké, Jerome; Dennis Henderson, Gooding; Herbard Anderson, Gooding; and Carol Contis, Twin Falls. Net winners were: Kathy Borchard, Buhl; Freida Richmond, Buhl; Rose Black, Buhl (all tied); and Betty James, Burley; Lorraine Kuhn, Jerome and Emma Barry, Rupert.

Commercial fishery above Bonneville Dam and the below Bonneville Fishery.

The two commissions also made a "strong recommendation" to the Oregon Water Resources Commission to close sport fishing in its jurisdiction on the river.

Washington has indicated it will close sport fishing.

A spokesman for the Oregon Fish Commission said by tonight, all sport fishing on the main stem of the Columbia would likely be closed.

In addition, all tributaries above Bonneville Dam were expected to be closed to sport fishing in both Oregon and Washington.

The commission said escapement of spring chinook totaled 112,251, far less than the minimum 160,000 fishers say is needed to insure future salmon runs.

The low escapement has been attributed to high water, lower than average run and difficulty of the fish in passing dams.

Dave Ortmann, anonymous fisheries supervisor for Idaho, told the Portland meeting earlier in the week that "these are crucial years for the future of spring chinook. Now as never before, the need for conservative management regulations can be clearly demonstrated."

Ortmann told the agencies Wednesday that downstream Indian and non-Indian commercial fishing interests are beginning Idaho its very small share of the spring chinook salmon catch.

He said the Idaho catch by sport fishermen this year is expected to be a poor catch of no more than 4,000 spring chinook salmon because of the small run of salmon into the Columbia river and poor Columbia river water because of high water flows.

Nitrogen supersaturation

also is expected to contribute to cutting the catch.

Fish fishing in the lower Columbia river, dam counts and river conditions all clearly indicate that the estimated escapement goal of salmon over Idaho's Little Goose dam may not be met this year," he said.

"In Idaho, all the fish available to us are those left over from a run that has passed through the Indian and non-Indian sport fisheries in the lower river. We've been pushed even the point of having no salmon fishing whatsoever in 1965."

Salmon fishing in Idaho will begin May 25.

Horoscope

FORECAST FOR FRIDAY, MAY 17, 1974

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Until midafternoon there are many delays which could prevent you from attaining the goals you are striving for. In the late afternoon and evening you are able to tune in on what is best for you and make considerable progress.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to April 19) The situation at your home is not as you would like it to be; but mutual understanding will bring the harmony that has been lacking.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 18) Your ideas are being twisted by some who are jealous of your success. You wait until tomorrow before making an important decision.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Instead of worrying about money, try to cooperate more with associates. Come to a better understanding with those who have opposed you.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Don't act strangely at your daily work and let others gain the upper hand. Speak frankly to others. Control your emotions.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Important affairs should be handled early before you engage in new situations. Avoid a talkative person who wants to waste your time.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Being meticulous in handling important affairs before going into new interests is vital now. Show more devotion to loved ones.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Plan some time to get a confiding moment with a friend or with an associate. Strive for more harmony in personal relationships.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You have much to do and you can show that you are a fine organizer by having your work completed by sundown. Be more cooperative.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Plan early—the kind of recreation you want to engage in later in the day. Good friends will be happy to go along with you.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Instead of starting an argument with a family-ite, use that energy for constructive purposes. Evening is fine for having fun.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You have an alert mind and can now solve some problems in a most clever way. Think before speaking and avoid getting into trouble.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) You are able to understand problems as they have in a very clear fashion now. Go to the right sources for the information you need.

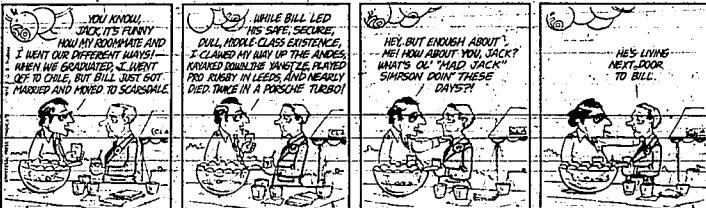

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY ... he or she will be one who can easily comprehend other people and their individual problems because of the humanitarian quality in this nature. Teach not to give advice until asked, otherwise much time and effort will be wasted. A tendency to intrude on others can be overcome. Give good grounding in music and religion. Ideal chart for seeking out truth.

What's What

L. M. Boyd

Question arises as to how many citizens owned stocks when the market crashed 45 years ago. Not so many, really. Only one out of every 80 people in this country population was about 20 million. Stock owners numbered 1.5 million. That's 31.7 million in a population of 210 million plus. Almost but not quite one out of every seven now is the possessor of such paper.

High noon is not necessarily the same time of day as 12 noon; bear in mind. It's high noon when the sun is at its top position above the horizon. That varies with your whereabouts and the season. Can occur 16 minutes before 12 noon or after.

Only five cities in the world have more telephones than people, sir. Cambridge, Mass., Champaign, Ill., Washington, D.C., Stockholm, Sweden, Springfield, Mich.

NOISY BUG

The cicada, incidentally, its noise-making apparatus is unique among bugs. Others, like bees, buzz by flapping their wings. Or chitter, like crickets, by rubbing their legs together. But the cicada is equipped with a pair of resonators on its midsection that work much like radio loudspeakers. Muscles twitch those vibrating diaphragms 7,400 times per second to broadcast the little beast's mating call clear across the pasture.

DAMNED

Students at Wadham College, Oxford, England, sometime back presented a list of "non-negotiable" demands to their dean. His reply read as follows: "We know of your threat to what you call direct action unless your demands are immediately met. We feel it's only sporting to let you know that our government body includes three experts in chemical warfare, two ex-commandos skilled with dynamite and in the torturing of prisoners, four qualified marksmen in both small arms and rifles, two ex-artillery men, one holder of the Victoria Cross, four karate experts and a chaplain. The governing body has authorized me to tell you we look forward with confidence to what you call a confrontation. And I may say even with anticipation."

Acting as a sort of swashbuckler, he said: "His own personal garment, not wardrobe. A tunic for luck."

It was a general principle of the U.S. Army that its cooks eat at least 25 cups out of every pound of coffee.

MAJOR HOOPLES

Cattle marts off

CHICAGO — Live and feeder cattle futures dropped Wednesday.

Commodity News Service said live cattle futures dropped to limit losses across the board after June and August were offered "limit down" at the opening. Volume was estimated at 4,555 contracts traded.

Elsewhere in the market

reected to lack of demand in live and dressed markets, which fell slightly heavy buying last week.

Concern over the impact of the truck strike was also off in cash and carcass beef, with prices down as much as one cent for carcass beef, Omaha, Joliet and Peoria cash markets were steady to 50 cents lower in slow trading.

Feeder cattle futures opened sharply lower and failed to rally, reportedly affected by the heavy early losses in fat

Sugar market off

NEW YORK (UPI) — The New York world sugar market closed at or near the jaws with officials 95 to 10 points below last Friday's close. Volume was an average 2,979 trades in all.

Traders said that Iran had rejected all offers for sugar at its weekend tender depressed dealers at the start of the day. This mood was counterbalanced somewhat by the confirmation of an Indian force measure on three cargoes of whites supposedly destined for Iran.

The results of last Friday's

Mexican tender to the United States had little if any market impact.

The world spot price today was 10 points lower on the tone of the market at 24.75 FOB Caribbean ports, while the domestic spot was 25 points higher on the day and fixed at 22.25 cents.

Sugar 10 futures were mixed the close, 15 points higher to lower on all sales.

Spuds slump

NEW YORK — Maine potatoes slumped Wednesday, closing down the 50 cent limit on 2,272 carloads.

Commodity News Service said the market opened with 7 to 10 cent declines and lost ground steadily under trade offerings.

Cash markets in Maine were steady to weaker, planting scheduled to begin here next week.

Wheat gains

CHICAGO — Wheat futures closed higher Wednesday.

Commodity News Service said reports of export activity and scheduled tenders of US wheat evidently boosted the market. Futures moved from a lower opening to show gains of 10 cents to 10 cents at the close.

Chicago cash wheat basis is normally unchanged at May price for soft red winter and hard wheat. Gulf basis is 15 cents to 20 cents over Kansas City July, also unchanged.

Grain

PORLTAND (UPI) — Cash grain, coast dealers:

30-day 60-cent

White wheat 1.89 3.92

Soft white no bid 3.92½

Burley 99.00 99.00

Final quotes ranged from down 75 cents in November to limit down in August and October. Seventy-five carlots were traded.

There were no indications of improvement in the feeder complex.

Conditions sales opening now in November and December, supply in January.
